Chinese Reds Step Up Bombing of Quemoy Isle

By SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Chinese Communists bombarded Quemoy in furious bursts for the fourth straight day today. Again increasing the volume of shells poured into the little Chinese Nationalist outpost island.

The bombardment which some officials feared was a prelude to invasion of the Nationalist offshore islands, began with about 80,000 shells over the weekend but subsided Monday to some 2,000 shells. Today the Reds stepped up the tempo again.

In three rounds of shelling from the nearby mainland beginning shortly after midnight, the Communists hit Quemoy and the nearby Tan Islands about 330 times, the Nationalist Defense Ministry said. Then in 2 hours and 40 minutes of early afternoon some 6,500 shells crashed down on the heavily fortified islands.

With the U. S. 7th Fleet already on the alert, a landing force of 1,600 men from the 3rd Marine Division was ordered to sail from Singapore. The destination of the four attack transports and four accompanying ships was not disclosed, but it was assumed they were moving closer to Formosa.

The 7th Fleet is pledged to protect Formosa out not necessarily Quemoy or the offshore islands. Officials in Washington said close watch was being kept on the set-up in the Communist attack.

Maj. Gen. Thomas F. Mooreman, commander of the U. S. 13th Air Force based in the Philippines, visited Formosa for talks with top Nationalist and U. S. military assistance officers.

Nationalist authorities were paying increasing attention to the possibility that the Communists would try to seize Tungting Island, 17 miles south of Quemoy. The Defense Ministry said two Red attempts Sunday to land troops on the tiny, rocky island were repulsed by Nationalist warships. Officials suspected, however, that the Communists might not have

Alaskans to Decide on Union Today

By WILLIAM J. TOBIN

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Alaskans decide today whether the northern territory is to be the 49th state.

The votes were being cast throughout the 586,400-square-mile territory in precincts with such names as Metlakatla and Chilkat, Pelican, Fox, Chicken and Eagle, Badger Road, Lincoln Park, North Pole and Turnagain by the Sea.

When all the votes are counted — and some of them won't be tabulated for a week — Alaskans are expected to have approved admission into the Union by a margin of at least 2-1.

Under terms of the admission act signed in July by President Eisenhower, such a vote will mean that a 49th star will be added to the nation's flag next year.

A presidential proclamation creating the newest and largest state — and the first to be admitted since New Mexico and Arizona entered the Union in 1912 — probably will be issued in late December or early January.

In anticipation of approval of the three statehood referendums, in a primary election to nominate Alaskans also were voting today candidates for the first state offices.

Republican and Democratic candidates for Alaska's first two seats in the U. S. Senate were assured nomination without opposition in the primary.

The two Democratic senatorial hopefuls who have no party contest in the primary are Alaska's long-time non-voting delegate to Congress, E. L. (Bob) Bartlett of Kodiak.

Mayor Can Be on Taxing Board

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — It is not a violation of state law for an Arkansas mayor to represent school districts on a county equalization board, the attorney general's office ruled yesterday.

Ben Harrison, an assistant to state Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett, wrote the opinion at the request of Jack Allumbaugh, a roger justice of the peace. Allumbaugh asked whether such a situation would violate a state law against dual office-holding.

Says Labor Blocked the Legislation

CHICAGO (AP) — Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.) told members of the Republican National Committee today that the Democratic leaders in Congress blocked all labor legislation this year to please union bigwigs.

"Walter Reuther, David McDonald and other bigwigs in the labor hierarchy did not want restrictions imposed on their reckless activities," Simpson said. "So they simply passed the word down to those who serve them in the Senate and the House."

Simpson, chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, echoed a keynote sounded earlier by GOP Chairman Wendell Willkie for this fall's campaign.

"Alton said before the two-day meeting of the party's 147-member National Committee that the failure of Congress to pass any measure to curb labor racketeering is a dramatic demonstration of the need for a Republican Congress."

The National Committee laid plans for intensive campaign efforts on behalf of party candidates for Congress during September and October.

The GOP National Finance Committee met concurrently to discuss fund raising.

A site committee to select the 1960 national convention city will be chosen Wednesday. No steps toward selection of a convention city are expected to be taken immediately.

Alton said that he and Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler have conferred on the possibility that conventions of both parties be held in the same city.

Furniture Dealers Elect President

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Furniture Dealers' Association yesterday elected William A. Johnson of Jonesboro president.

Other officers named at the close of a 2-day convention included E. B. Garrett of El Dorado, first vice president; Jim Vardaman of Ozark, second vice president; Jim Hawkins of Harrison, director of the northwest district; and J. W. Port of Springdale, chairman of the board.

Declares Union Official Linked With Gangsters

WASHINGTON (AP) — A St. Louis police detective today declared Teamster Vice President Harold Gibbons as a cop-hating associate of underworld characters whose labor activities have been filled with violence.

"Practically every strike he has been involved in has had occasions of violence and destruction of property," Detective Capt. Thomas L. Moran told the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

Moran said Gibbons tells St. Louis Teamsters to regard police as strikebreakers on the side of management.

Moran testified that Gibbons "seems to have more than an inkling acquaintance with some of the leading underworld figures."

He specifically mentioned John Vitale, reputed head of the Italian crime syndicate in St. Louis, and Joe Costello, who has been described as the leading fence or dealer in stolen property in St. Louis.

Moran, head of the St. Louis police bomb and arson squad, testified as the committee turned to Gibbons in its continuing probe of the Teamsters and their president, James R. Hoffa.

Before Moran testified, the committee charged that the officials of Teamsters Local 688 literally sold the local secretly to Gibbons.

But Lawrence J. Camie, the local's former president, insisted that $30,000 he received for stepping out as president when Gibbons took over in 1949 was severance pay. No sale was involved, he swore.

"I didn't sell that union and I couldn't sell it if I wanted to," Camie said.

He acknowledged that the es-crow agreement under which he drew $30,000 in three $12,000 annual installments made no mention of severance pay.

Camie testified he and other local officers and directors were offered a choice of remaining on the job after Gibbons took over, or quitting and collecting severance pay equal to the salaries they would have drawn for the remaining three years of their terms.

The committee's chairman, Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.), produced figures subpoenaed from the union which he said, that the cost of getting the officers out was $78,410. The local, he said, didn't even have enough money in its treasury to pay Camie's $30,000 share. McClellan said the rest was borrowed.

Control of Local 688 was the springboard from which Gibbons took off on a rise to power in the union. He now is executive vice president of the International Teamsters Union—No. 1, headquartered at President James R. Hoffa—and boss of St. Louis area Teamsters affairs.

Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, said in advance of the hearing that this phase of the committee's inquiry would center on what he called goon squad violence, misuse of funds and abuse of power in St. Louis area Teamster affairs.

Charge Filed for Aiding Jail Break

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A felony charge was lodged yesterday against a Humnook woman accused of smuggling a pistol to a State Hospital inmate who later used it to break out of the maximum security ward.

Mrs. Vivian Doris Harris, 19, was charged in Pulaski Circuit Court by Prosecutor J. Frank Holt. She could be sentenced to from one to three years in prison if convicted.

She is accused of smuggling a .22 caliber pistol to Bobby Milam, 22, of Humnook on Aug. 19. That night, Milam and three other inmates escaped after forcing a guard at gunpoint to hand over his keys.

All four have been recaptured. One of the escapees, Gordon Sullivan, 18, returned voluntarily about an hour after the breakout. A second 18-year-old, Charles Sellers, was apprehended the next day in a Pine Bluff movie theater.

Milam and Franklin Roenick, 20, were arrested last Thursday near Abbeville, N. C.

Mrs. Harris was arrested Friday by Little Rock police on a charge of aiding the escape.

Let. Paul McDonald of the state police said Mrs. Harris' husband, Harold Harris, was Milam's brother. He said Mrs. Harris had visited Milam often.

Legislature Asked to Give Governor Power to Close Any State School

Central High School Opening Delayed a Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A six-day delay in the school opening date at tense Little Rock provided a brief breathing spell today for Arkansas legislators and U. S. Supreme Court justices considering the involved integration crisis.

On the eve of today's special session of the Arkansas Legislature, the Board of Education announced the entire Little Rock public school system would remain closed until Sept. 8. The schools had been scheduled to open Sept. 2.

The action was taken only a few hours after the Supreme Court decided to hold an emergency session Thursday to determine whether to allow or forbid immediate mixing of the races in the Little Rock schools.

Board President Wayne Upton said it was hoped the postponement would "remove the pressure of shortage of time for both the Supreme Court . . . and the Arkansas Legislature."

Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas urged the high court to show patience and grant time in the case of Little Rock's Central High School. Otherwise, he has prepared legislation to close the school entirely.

Meanwhile, School Supt. Virgil Blossom said two more Negro male pupils have applied for registration at Central High and a third, a 14-year-old girl, has sought admission to previously all-white Hall High.

Blossom indicated the three applications would be denied until the Supreme Court decided whether or not seven other Negroes should re-enter Central.

The expected Supreme Court decision also would affect integration in Norfolk, Va., schools which open Sept. 8. Federal Dist. Judge Walter E. Hoffman told the school board there to reconsider the rejected applications of 151 Negroes who asked admission to white schools. He asked the board to report to him Friday, the day after the Supreme Court meets.

Hoffman said recently that he would not order Norfolk schools desegregated if the Supreme Court permitted a delay in Little Rock.

At Richmond, the Virginia Pupils Placement Board denied all Negro applications for transfer to white schools in Arlington and Newport News. Apparently 27 Negroes were involved but exact figures were not available.

In other developments, plans were being made for mixed classes in schools at Nashville and Clinton, Tenn.

First-grade pupils began enrolling today for integrated classes at several Nashville schools to this second year in a row. Second-grade pupils, including those starting their second year of mixed classes, will enroll later. Schools open Sept. 8.

Police and school authorities said they expected no disturbances.

Scholarship for 9 Negro Students

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nine Negro students who attended Little Rock's Central High School last year each received $1,000 college scholarships here last night.

The grants were made by the Improved Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks (Negro) as part of a program of aid to students in tension areas of the South.

Six of the Little Rock students were here to attend the Elks convention. They were Carlotta Walls, Melba Pattillo, Jefferson Thomas, Minnie Jean Brown, Gloria Ray and Elizabeth Eckford.

Bruce Bennett Is Man With a Mission

By ED MARTIN — Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett, who gave Gov. Orval Faubus a score of proposed bills for possible use in Arkansas' special legislative session, is a man with a mission.

"I want to smash the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People throughout the South," Bennett regards the organization as the agitator of Arkansas' racial problems. He has tried to hamstring it through several legislative court actions which still are pending.

The legal maneuvers he stages in trying to curtail NAACP activities have kept Bennett's name before the public during the past year.

Many observers thought the 40-year-old greying attorney general had a strong political motive in waging his one-man war against the NAACP before and after the Central High School integration dispute flared last September.

It was looked on as a gubernatorial aspirant.

Although Bennett had a four year record as an able prosecuting attorney in the vicinity of his home town of El Dorado and had served most of a term as attorney general, he wasn't too well known outside of south Arkansas.

A bill requiring the delay in the full term had been prepared for legislative approval.

School Supt. Virgil Blossom announced that three more Negroes had applied for admission to the white schools. Seven who attended Central High School last year under federal troop protection are expected to apply Wednesday.

Hurricane Drifts Off Florida Coast

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Daisy drifted slowly toward the northwest today, 220 miles off Melbourne, Fla. It appeared to follow a pattern that would bring none of its crushing winds to the U. S. mainland.

Reconnaissance aircraft reported today that Daisy was moving toward the northwest at about 5 m.p.h.

If Daisy is pushed into a more northeasterly direction, a spokesman for the Weather Bureau said, it would find itself chased out to sea by strong southwesterly winds blowing at all levels across the United States.

This, at present, is what the Weather Bureau thinks will happen.

Integration Can't Be Forced Legally — Faubus

By ROBERT E. FORD

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus today told the Arkansas State Legislature that the federal government can never constitutionally enforce integration in public schools. He asked the power to close Arkansas schools against any such mandate.

In a speech urging the special session of the Legislature not to surrender on the issue, Faubus declared:

"There is no clear-cut federal statute regarding the integration of the schools. If there were, it would be unconstitutional, for the authority to control public education has never been delegated by the states to the federal government."

Arkansas' legislators gathered amid back-slapping for the historic special session. But the rooming air of the sweltering chamber was more solemn than light. Spectators jammed the galleries for the opening of the great states' rights debate.

By ROBERT E. FORD

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas lawmakers gathered today ready to stamp approval on measures aimed at keeping Little Rock's schools segregated unless voters approve racially mixed classes.

The Little Rock school board scrapped "one measure" before the Legislature met. It announced postponement of all city school openings from Sept. 2 to Sept. 8 to ease the time pressure on the Legislature and the U. S. Supreme Court.

A bill requiring the delay in the full term had been prepared for legislative approval.

School Supt. Virgil Blossom announced that three more Negroes had applied for admission to the white schools. Seven who attended Central High School last year under federal troop protection are expected to apply Wednesday.

Official of Lebanon Group Shot, Killed

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A gunman today shot and killed Abdullah Nuralah, secretary of the Lebanese Industrialist organization, in one of Beirut's traffic-jammed streets.

Nuralah was shot while leaving his car near a friend's office. Nuralah resigned a year ago as secretary of the Najjada party, a Lebanese paramilitary organization now joined with the rebels.

Meanwhile, U. S. troops and tanks loop-up positions next to rebel outposts along the road between Beirut and International Airport. The aim is to stop sniper fire along the roadway.

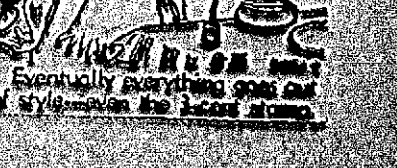

This is the closest any members of the U. S. armed forces have come to rebel lines.

An announcement issued by the military command said the Americans set up tank strong points at three places to guard against sniper fire and other harassment.

It was understood some American soldiers had their rifles stolen from jeeps while driving through Lebanese crowds. The airport road links American positions south of Beirut with other U. S. troops guarding Beirut's dock system.

Parachute troops of the 24th Division will start training Wednesday. Their drop zone has been established near the now heavily guarded airport highway.

Nadler Becomes May Winner

NEW YORK (AP)—Teddy Nadler, a former U. S. civil service clerk, is the new all-time high winner on TV quiz shows.

Nadler Sunday night topped past the previous record holder, Robert Stron, 11-year-old science whiz, to $252,000. The boy had won $242,600.

Nadler's answer to an $8,000 question on CBS-TV's The $64,000 Challenge pushed him past young Stron to winnings of an even quarter of a million dollars.

Nadler, 48, then went on to make it $252,000 before time ran out. He will return to the program next Sunday.

The $8,000 question was in the ancient history category. Defeated by Nadler was Mrs. Dolores Brown, a New York City housewife.

Nadler comes from St. Louis. The newly crowned champion TV quiz contestant added $2,000 by defeating David H. Engel, a landscape artist with a master's degree in international relations. They tied in a series about geography.

Electronics to Process Tax Returns

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—About 60 per cent of Arkansas' individual federal income tax returns will be processed electronically next year, the Internal Revenue Service announced yesterday.

Curtis R. Mathis, director of the revenue office here, said the change would mean faster and highly accurate computations for taxpayers in the state.

Mathis said the returns would be processed at an Ogden, Utah service center, beginning January 1, 1959.

The center uses new electronic data computing equipment and high speed processing devices, Mathis added. Up to now, the work had been done manually with the aid of normal equipment at the IRS office here.

Mathis said taxpayers would continue to deal with local and district IRS offices since the Ogden center would only process returns sent to it by district offices. After the machine work is done computations will come back to the district office serving the taxpayer.

mission to Hall High School, a swank new institution in a neighborhood of predominantly better quality residences occupied by whites.

The key measure prepared for the lawmakers by Gov. Orval Faubus would present him the power to close any school should the federal government seek to integrate it by court order or physical force.

The school would remain closed until voters balloted—within 30 days—on whether to integrate or keep its doors shut.

A third measure would permit a student of a closed school to carry his state aid allotment with him to another district.

The U. S. Supreme Court, on Thursday, will hold an emergency session to deal with Little Rock's riot-marked school racial problems.

Under current lower court rulings, the city's schools are under no orders to integrate when the fall term opens. The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People appealed to the high court to override the lower bench rulings which give the school board a breather.

The Supreme Court meeting Thursday—only the fifth such emergency session in 40 years—has widespread implication.

It is expected to provide the first specific ruling by this court on integration methods and timing since it ruled May 17, 1954, that racial segregation in public schools is unconstitutional. A year later it ordered desegregation to proceed "with all deliberate speed."

But never has the court pinpointed a time and method for desegregation of a school.

Gets Glimpse of Higher Math at UA

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—A 15-year-old Shreveport, La., boy is spending his summer getting a glimpse of higher mathematics at the University of Arkansas.

Walter Coughley Jr., who will be a sophomore at Shreveport's Byrd High School this fall, has been sitting in on calculus classes here for the past 2½ months.

"I don't see anything unusual about it," said the quiet, young scholar. "I'm just interested in mathematics of the higher type. Why, I know several boys who are just as interested as I am."

Walter is here with his family—his parents, 14-year-old sister, Dabeta, and 8-year-old brother Roy. His father is completing his master's degree in music at the university.

The elder Coughley is orchestra director at Byrd High and Mr. Coughley is a former school teacher.

Young Coughley apparently is the only member of the family interested in mathematics.

"We all like music," said Walter. "We all play one or more instruments."

A year and a half ago Walter became interested in mathematics after reading "a few books on calculus, analytic geometry and other branches of mathematics."

"I found that by applying myself I could work almost any problem in any of the fields I read about."

Since then he has completed advanced courses in analytic geometry, calculus and algebraic theory. He said he had little trouble with ninth grade algebra at Byrd and the only mathematics open to him this fall—other than business math and another course in algebra—is plane geometry.

His extracurricular studies, he said, were encouraged by Miss Virginia Carlson, head of the mathematics department at Centenary College in Shreveport.

His ambition?

Walter says he wants to become a professional mathematician. And he doesn't want to teach.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas Republicans will hear an address by Meade Alcorn, chairman of the Republican National Committee at the State GOP convention here Sept. 12.

Alcorn's scheduled address was announced yesterday at a meeting of the state Republican executive committee.

Ben C. Henley of Harrison, state GOP chairman, said Alcorn would fly here from Tulsa, Okla. Henley said no definite time had been set for the speech because Alcorn's arrival time was not certain.

The executive committee held an hour-long session and discussed general convention plans and appointed organizational committee.

Jury Resumes Stabbing Probe

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Pulaski County Grand Jury today apparently resumed its investigation of the fatal stabbing of an elderly music teacher.

Eleven witnesses were called. The jury first took up the stabbing of Mrs. Kirk Killian at its meeting Aug. 13. At that time the jurors heard from juvenile authorities and psychiatrists who had examined Joe Grabner, 12.

The youngster stabbed his teacher repeatedly on the front steps of her home last May 15. Grabner presently is in custody of juvenile authorities.

Massey - Fuller Vows Pledged in Double Ring Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Massey Jr., 1801 Olmos, Alice, Texas, announce the marriage of their daughter, Avis Louise, to H. B. Fuller Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Fuller Sr. of Hope on Saturday, Aug. 23, at 7:30 in the evening at the First Baptist Church in Alice, Dr. O. Byron Richardson, performed the double-ring ceremony before a setting of white gladiolus, betterment roses and candlelight. An archway entwined with greenery, forming the background for the pre-dinner, where the wedding vows were exchanged.

Mrs. Paul Joyce, organist of Fort Worth, played "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin as the processional and wedding march by Mendelssohn as the recessional. She accompanied Wendell Groom, who sang, "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee" by Gounod, "The Lord's Prayer" by Motette was played during the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ice white Peau d'Ance combined with hand-run Chantilly. The smoothly sculptured bodice was silk veiled with lace forming brief sleeves. Petal scallops in the design of the lace formed an edging for the sleeves and portrait neckline which dipped to a shallow V in the back. Lace formed the hip yoke of the silk skirt and fell in wide panels to the hemline in front and on over silk in the back to the end of a chapel sweep. Matching lace garters were worn.

A dainty pearl edged palteau hat was worn etched with seed pearls and opalescent sequins. Circular litters of silk illusion cascaded from the hat to fingertip length. She carried a dainty semi-crescent styled bouquet of stephanotis and ivy strands, centered with white cynidrium orchids.

Miss Lathelle Fuller, sister of the groom was maid of honor. She was dressed in a caper blue silk organza frock with cap sleeves and bateau neckline which detailed the fitted bodice. The waistline was caught in the crisp cross folds of silk and etched with a tiny flat bow. The full gathered skirt fell below to ballerina length and was widehemmed organza over net and taffeta for added bouffance. Matching accessories were worn.

Horsehair lace bandeau in matching blue was worn and she held a circular scalloped nose well adorned with pearls. Her flowers were tiffany styled hothouse of betterment roses.

Bridesmaids were Misses Barbara Flores, Lake Jackson, Texas; Phoebe Joyce, Fort Worth and Frances Nelson, Port Arthur, Texas. Their dresses were identical in caper blue silk organza.

Mary Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Smith of Alice was flower girl and wore a dress identical to the bridesmaids and a circular headpiece of dainty flowers and carried a basket of betterment rose petals and strewed them in the path of the bride.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was his father, H. B. Fuller Sr. of Hope. Ushers were Jimmy Massey, brother of the bride, Clyde Arnold Jr., of Hope and Jim Jameson of Waco.

Mrs. A. T. Massey Jr., mother of the bride chose for her daughters wedding a champagne lace sheath styled with a bouzon bodice and brief sleeves. The bateau neckline was edged with scallops of lace and coral silk favored the waistline accent. Her flowers were coral colored carnations and gold leaves to match the coral cummerbund of her dress.

Mrs. Horace Fuller Sr. mother of the bride wore a powder blue lace frock over satin with matching accessories. Her flowers were garnet roses with silver leaves.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Alton Smith, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Massey Jr., Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Fuller Sr., the bride and groom and attendants.

The reception table in the garden of the bride's home was adorned with tall and medium hurricane lamps and white tuff mums, pompoms, southern smilax garlands draped from each lamp to the end of the table.

The brides traveling costume was of powder blue linen, Carley original with which she wore black accessories, white kid gloves and an orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet. Opal necklace and opal earrings were a gift of the groom.

Miss Jo Ann Hart, Bride - Effect Honored

Fall wedding plans have been made by Miss Jo Ann Hart of Baytown, Texas, formerly of Hope, and a linen shower in her honor was given by Miss Mary Jean Sparks, Miss Mary Charlene Horton, Mrs. John Freeman of Arkadelphia, Mrs. W. M. Sparks, Mrs. Franklin Horton and Mrs. Perry Moses on Saturday, Aug. 23 in the Sparks' home.

At the afternoon party, Miss Hart wore a frock of pink deacon trimmed with matching lace, and she pinned a rose bud corsage at her shoulder. The honoree was given a pretty net pillow in which to place the ribbons from her gift packages. Favorite recipes were written for her by the guests, who also put their best wishes for happiness into a bride's book.

A pink umbrella and seasonal flowers of the same hue decorated the table on which the gifts were placed. Frosted punch and cookies were served to about 25 guests, including Mrs. Pat Simmons of Magnolia.

Norrell Will Try to Mark Arkansas Post

By GORDON BROWN
Associated Press Special Service
WASHINGTON (AP)—A new effort will be made next year by Rep. W. E. Norrell (D-Ark) to set up a national park marking the site of Arkansas Post, first white settlement in the lower Mississippi Valley.

His proposal for such a park got caught in the adjournment rush this year, but Norrell said today he will introduce the measure early next year and push for its enactment.

Arkansas Post was established in 1686 by Henry De Tonti, a lieutenant of the famous explorer La Salle, along the Mississippi River in what is now southeastern Arkansas. It was set up as a fur trading post.

For the past two years the Interior Department has conducted archaeological excavations in the area in an effort to establish the exact site of the post.

These explorations did not pinpoint the site and the department concluded that Arkansas Post therefore would not be the standard for a national park.

It was after receiving this verdict that Norrell introduced a bill which would set up a national park. However, he said, there was insufficient time for this bill to be heard by the House Interior Committee. It died when Congress adjourned.

Meanwhile, Norrell remained in contact with the Interior Department concerning the matter.

The National Park Service recently notified Norrell that the final report on the archaeological investigation showed that while the general area in which Arkansas Post was located could be fixed the exact site could not be found.

The report, said the Park Service, "locates the Indian Village believed to have been associated with Tonti's post of 1686 but does not locate the post itself."

"It so happens," the Park Service continued, "that the work schedule of the national survey of all sites listed in the survey covering the theme 'French Exploration and Settlement.' This reappraisal which is now in progress will be finished this fall and will enable Arkansas Post to be evaluated with greater accuracy."

Therefore, the service told Norrell, "we believe it will be to the best interest of the federal government and of the sponsors of the Arkansas Post National Monument to include Arkansas Post in this theme study and to submit recommendations regarding it to the advisory board. . . at its next meeting."

The final report on the Arkansas Post studies said the post never had been an important outpost in the French colonial scheme and indications are it was abandoned about 1700 and not reestablished for some 20 years.

Archaeological excavations, said the report, showed no evidence of any French post prior to 1750.

Here's the new look of sweaters this fall: long, lean and lanky. There are many or blouse up at the waist. Cowl neckline is used with high, ribbed turtle neck for new bulky knits and many dressmaker sweaters that lend themselves to the continental look. The flat cowl can be turned up or down. Bulky look takes over the costume look. We show examples of both here. The dressmaker cardigan (left) in cardigan (right) done with a raised cable pattern. This is cut with raglan in the longer length has back interest in ribbed panel finished off by hipband, sleeves for ease and comfort. It buttons up the front with flat white pearl buttons. This sweater is done in a blend of wool and fur fibers. Pullover (center) in a to a raised, ribbed neckline. All of the sweaters shown here are Darlene designs; blend of anaca and wool has low drawstring which can adjust to hug the hipline. All of them come in a full range of high fashion colors for autumn.

'Sweepers' Satellites Possible

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (AP)—"Sweeper" satellites could houseclean away the dangerous band of radioactivity high above the earth, a space scientist suggested today.

This radiation is the mystery halo discovered by Explorer satellites and Sputniks. It apparently could be deadly to humans.

But the sweepers could clear a channel so humans could safely zoom off on space trips, Dr. S. Fred Singer of the University of Maryland told the International Astronautical Federation, meeting here this week.

Or space ships might escape it by taking off over the poles, where there are apparently natural holes in the belt, he continued. As another idea, space ships might be equipped with magnetic screens to fend off the radiation. All these schemes would avoid tremendously heavy lead shielding.

The radiation band, he continued, probably stretches 40,000 miles above the earth before it dwindles away.

The radiation band might even extend all the way to the moon, Dr. Fred Whipple Smithsonian Institution astronomer, told a reporter.

Singer said the radiation appears thinner at higher latitudes and nonexistent at the poles. He theorizes it is made of protons—positively charged atomic particles—trapped in the earth's magnetic field.

The space sweepers could be satellites, about 20 feet in diameter, circling the earth above the equator, and soaking up the protons faster than they are being formed.

Crack Golfers in Mid-South Meet

MEMPHIS (AP)—Seventeen crack Mid-South golfers teed off at the Memphis Country Club today in a showdown for this area's two berths in the National Amateur golf tournament.

The sectional qualifying play is a 3-hole test.

Out-of-towners in the field included Tom Raney of Little Rock and E. B. Gee Jr. of Blytheville, Ark.

The national tourney will be held in San Francisco Sept. 8-13.

"No physical evidences have been found of the earliest Spanish ports or settlements which were located near the mouth of the Arkansas. The archaeological remains excavated adjacent to Arkansas Post State Park—have been identified as of middle or late 18th century origin."

See No Trouble at Nashville

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—School Supt. W. H. Oliver, although admitting some anxiety, predicted the second year's registration of racially mixed first graders would go off without incident here today.

Registration opens at 8 a.m. and ends at 2 p.m.

Last year little beside threatening phone calls marred the city's first desegregated registration of first graders, but violence broke out when classes started and one school was blown up.

Classes start this year Sept. 8.

Two More Humans Have Anthrax

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state's toll of human anthrax cases was pushed to six yesterday with the disclosure of state health department officials of two new incidents.

Dr. J. T. Herron, state health officer, said both new cases affected children. One occurred in Monroe County, one in Desha County.

The case in Desha, which affected a 13-year-old boy, was the fourth reported there.

The second case involved a 3-year-old girl in Monroe County, where one other incident had been reported.

Dr. Herron said the sixth known case in the state was in Chicot County.

Charges Pile Up on Tulsa Man

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The number of charges against a 31-year-old Tulsa, Okla., man rose to six yesterday when he was arraigned here on a charge of forging a postal money order at Norman, Okla.

The United States Marshal's office said William E. Russell's bond on all six charges now totals $23,500. Bond on yesterday's charge was set at $1,500 and he was returned to the Pulaski County Jail here.

Russell also is charged with forging money orders at Little Rock and Fort Worth, Tex., and with breaking into postoffices at Gore, Okla., Merit, Tex., Spavinaw, Okla., and Gore, Okla.

Louann Resident Injured Fatally

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—A 51-year-old Louann resident was fatally injured yesterday in a head-on collision of two pickup trucks near Smackover.

Clon R. Wells, driver of one of the trucks, died at a hospital here about four hours after the accident. The other driver, George McAdoo, a Negro of Smackover, was uninjured.

State Trooper Wiley Parham said the trucks collided on state Highway 7 about four miles north of Smackover.

Bale of Cotton Ginned at Jonesboro

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Craighead County's first 1958 bale of cotton was ginned yesterday by the Keith-Shaver Gin Co. at nearby Monette.

The fiber was grown by William Barnes, 25, of Childress in northeast Craighead County. The ginning was the first reported in the state for 1958.

Barnes said he harvested his crop from Rux seed planted April 25.

The 575-pound bale was consigned to Hugh Francis and Son, Inc., Memphis cotton brokers, and will be auctioned Friday as the first bale received on the Memphis Cotton Exchange.

The ginning was extremely early for this section of the state. Most cotton in this area is seven weeks from harvest.

L. R. Team Wins in Playoff

MEMPHIS (AP)—The Little Rock Alotties defeated the Memphis Independents, 3-6, last night to win the women's Southwest regional softball title.

The victory gave the Little Rock team a spot in the world tournament starting Saturday at Bridgeport, Conn.

Would Desegregate City Owned Parks

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A request that city parks now reserved for white persons be desegregated was filed with the City Park and Recreation Board by 48 Negroes yesterday.

The petition came in a letter signed by Solomon S. Seay Jr., the attorney representing the Negroes, said Mayor W. A. Gayle. The board was asked to set a hearing date on the request.

Included among the signers of the petition were the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. and the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, two leaders of the 1955 Montgomery bus boycott.

No hearing date has yet been set by the board.

Gayle and city commissioners Clyde Sellers and Frank W. Parks said in a statement yesterday, "We have no intention of operating any integrated parks in the city of Montgomery."

Orioles Might Just Make That Second Spot

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

A week ago it figured that the Baltimore Orioles might have a shot at the first division in the American League standings. Now the birds might even rest in second place.

The Orioles under Manager Paul Richards have won 13 of their last 19 games. They wrestled Detroit for a share of fourth place by taking two of three from the Tigers. Then they beat Chicago 6-5 Monday night for a sweep of the two-game set with the second-place White Sox.

That left the Red Sox within three games of third place. Boston and the Yankees were tied for fourth place. The White Sox were still in the race for Detroit to a full game.

Washington defeated Cleveland 5-4 in the only other A.L. game. In the National League, Milwaukee stroked its lead to eight games once more as the Braves rapped second place San Francisco 6-1. St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 7-1 and Los Angeles beat Cincinnati 4-2.

The Orioles won the hard way Monday night, blowing a 5-1 lead before cracking a 5-all tie on Al Pihlari's ninth single in the sixth inning. They had built the early bulge in three innings against Sox starter Ray Moore on four walks and but four hits, including a two-run single by Brooks Robinson.

Rookie Mill Pappas (8-7) was the winner in relief after losing four in a row, but it was the mop up relief of George Zuvorink, ex-Indian Hoyt Wilhelm and Billy Loes—who combined for a two-hit shutout over the last three innings that put it away.

The Indians were dropped despite the power-hitting of Rocky Colavito, who drove in all four runs with a double and his 31st homer. Clint Courtney, driving in two runs by his sixth homer and a sacrifice fly as the Senators overhauled a 4-0 Cleveland lead, counted the clincher in the eighth on a wild pitch by reliever Ray Niekirk. Don Mossi (7-7) was the loser in relief, Truman Cleveland (8-8) the winner in relief of Vito Valentini.

The first place New York Yankees, their lead back to 12½ games, begin a two-game series tonight against Kansas City that ends their last home stand against the western clubs. Bob Turley goes after his 10th victory for the champs.

The White Sox move on to Washington, while Baltimore is at home to Cleveland. Detroit plays at Boston.

Veck Going After Indian Franchise

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Bill Veck, eager to get back into baseball, is not after the franchise he once operated at Cleveland in order to keep the Indians from making any moves.

However, at a press conference in Chicago Monday, Veck said he isn't against moving franchises and believes the major leagues should expand to 16 teams with Toronto, Montreal, Houston and Minneapolis being possible additions.

"If a team must move, it should move," said Veck. "But if I look over at Cleveland, I'd do everything within my power to keep the team there. Those people were too good to me to be deserted."

Veck said that when he was president of the Indians they drew 2,620,627 for a major league attendance record in 1947. The next year with a fourth-place club they drew over 2,300,000 and once with

Fishing Report Around Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Here is a fishing report and forecast from the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission:

Bull Shoals Lake: No report.

Lake Norfolk: Water clear; black bass fair on artificial bait and worms; white bass fair at night on minnows; catfish fair on willow leaves.

Lake Conway: Water clear; bream fair to good on crickets and worms.

Lake Greeson: Water clear; largemouth bass good on topwater lures, when fish are schooling, fair trolling; crappie fair on minnows.

Lake Hamilton: Bass fair to good on artificial bait; crappie fair on minnows; bream good on crickets and worms.

Lake Catherine: No report.

Nothing Crucial About Braves Losing to Bums

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

So the Milwaukee Braves can't beat the also-ran Los Angeles Dodgers. It may be annoying, but it's not crucial. Not when the champs can run off seven in a row against the San Francisco Giants, the club they have to beat.

Twice in the last four weeks, the Dodgers have belittled the Braves and left 'em looking as though they could be had. Instead, they've snatched the second-place Giants and romped off with eight-game leads in the National League pennant chase.

Just last week they dropped four of five to the fourth-place Dodgers, but then whipped the Giants in the opener of a "show-down" five-game series at San Francisco 8-5 in 10 innings Sunday. Monday night they did it again, rapping the Giants 6-1 behind Warren Spahn, who shrugged off a sore throat and won his 17th of the year—first on the West Coast.

The Dodgers retained fourth, coming from behind for a 4-2 victory over Cincinnati and St. Louis, who whipped Pittsburgh 7-1 in the only other N.L. games scheduled.

In the American League, idle New York retained a 12½-game spread as Baltimore defeated the second place Chicago White Sox 5-4. Washington clipped Cleveland 6-5.

Wally Moon had three of the Cardinals' nine hits off loser Ron Kline (12-12) and R. G. Smith, one a two-run homer that capped a four-run third. Larry Jackson (11-10) was the winner. He gave up eight hits, losing his shutout bid on Hank Foote's double, a sacrifice and Bob Clement's single in the third that tied it 1-all.

Southpaw Johnny Podres gave up a two-run homer to Pete Whisenant in the first inning, then blanked the Reds on seven hits for a 12-0 record. Harvey Haddix (7-7) lost it. Carl Furillo drove in the first two Dodgers runs with a pair of singles and scored the lead run on Don Zimmer's single in the third.

A seventh-place club they drew over 1,100,000.

"Those people must still be there," said Veck. "I can't believe they cannot be brought back."

Veck and his associates made a bid for the Indians last spring but were turned down. Cleveland drew only 722,256 last year and will probably finish with less this year.

When rumors circulated that the Cleveland franchise might be shifted, Veck again appeared on the scene. "We didn't make a bid this time," he said, "but that does not mean we're not interested."

Cleveland Board Chairman William R. Daley has stated the Indians are not for sale. He also has said he wants to keep the team in Ohio—if the fans support it.

LIKE A LOT OF PEOPLE—Tucked away in Clinton county, near Frankfort, Ind., is the tiny town of Fickle. One of many odd-home towns around the United States, Fickle was named after an early settler of the 1820s—one Isaac Fickle. The town boasts a population of 105, a post office and a general store.

ADD ONE—Should Alaska become the 49th state in the Union, this is the way Old Glory would probably look. Ernest Gruening, former governor of Alaska, points to the 49th star on this special flag at Alaskan Statehood Headquarters in Washington. Should a new star be added, it would be a big boon to the flag makers, as millions of the 48-star flags would have to be replaced.

GREW-SOME TWIST—Named for its weirdly twisted shape rather than its fruit, this "pretzel" tree stands at Cassville, Wis. A cedar, its branches are believed to have been twisted by prevailing winds off the Mississippi River.

4-H Summer Camp a Success
The Hempstead County 4-H Clubs held their first annual one day Summer Camp Friday, Aug. 22, on the Hope City Park grounds.

According to Miss E. L. Ford and C. B. Smith, assistant county agents, 80 4-H'ers, leaders and interested citizens attended.

Activities for the day included boxing, softball, tennis, basketball and the main event was a cookout which consisted of ground beef, onion rings, sliced white potatoes, carrot strips, butter and bread. Each person prepared their own meal wrapped in aluminum foil and placed on open coals.

The following clubs participated in the camp: Blevins-Iron Springs, Hopewell, Nolen, Williams Chapel, McCaskill, Oak Grove and Shover Street.

Video Improves Television News Programs

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Video tape, the system that enables moving pictures to be recorded and instantly played back without the use of film, is improving television news coverage.

Looking ahead to the 1960 presidential conventions one can see that tape might help solve some of the problems involved in the coverage of the 1952 and 1956 conventions. Even the most ardent members of both major parties agreed that keeping TV cameras on both conventions continuously in 50 resulted in some highly dull viewing.

Sig Mickelson, general manager of CBS news, said, "I'd prefer to edit the conventions and use video tape for the less vital parts of the proceedings in 1960. We would, of course, go live for balloting and other highlights. You never can overlook the importance, the sense of actuality, in live coverage of events as they happen."

CBS news was the first network to make use of the unique advantages of tape in covering the United Nations sessions at the height of the recent Middle East crisis. One example was the day President Eisenhower addressed the General Assembly. The President's speech was carried live and also taped; the speech by Andrei Gromyko, the Soviet representative, was taped only. At 7:30 p. m. that evening CBS-TV presented a special half-hour program of the highlights of both speeches with interpretive interjections by network commentators.

Although tape has the advantage of a better image than film and does not require its lengthy processing, tape still cannot be spliced. Thus breaks made by the continuity of a taped program must be bridged by live camera shots. It is expected that it will be technically possible to splice tape within two years.

Although it's much too early to determine exactly how television will cover the 1960 conventions, works established a pattern of saturation coverage in 1952 that it may be difficult to break. In that year, because of the number of single station markets and single cable lines which had to be shared, the networks compromised by all covering the entire proceedings.

Video tape, as CBS News used it in recent U. N. coverage, would appear to be the means of eliminating much tediousness in TV's coverage of the 1960 conventions.

U. S. Rocket to Be Set Up in Britain

LONDON (AP)—The first American rocket capable of carrying the hydrogen bomb is expected to be set up in Britain this week. The U. S. Air Force is expected to fly this first 62-foot Thor rocket into Britain later this week.

About half of the nation's population lives within 500 miles of Arkansas.

Senate Probe Turns to Union Dispute

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate committee returned to its probe of the Teamsters Union today as a dispute shaped up between the other groups appointed to check on alleged corruption in the big truck union.

In advance of the Senate hearing, House Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said this phase of the probe would center on what he called "a squad violence, massive to take and noise of power in St. Louis area Teamsters affairs beset by Harold Gibbons."

Gibbons, executive vice president of the Teamsters Union, holds top command of its operations in the St. Louis region. He also is top lieutenant to Teamsters President James R. Hoffa.

Meanwhile, one member of a three-man monitors board, appointed by a federal court here to keep tabs on the Teamsters, described as "an outrageous thing" Hoffa's creation of a separate commission to investigate corruption charges against his union.

Godfrey P. Schmidt said in New York that "Hoffa can now say the monitors are no longer necessary because the union has got its own watchdogs. This is a typical piece of complicated Hoffa conspiracy."

Schmidt said the monitors have demanded that Hoffa give them a full explanation of all arrangements that went into forming the commission, headed by former Republican Sen. George H. Bender of Ohio.

Furthermore, Schmidt indicated a protest may be made to Federal Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts. Letts earlier this year appointed the monitors to watch over the union operations. He did so in a compromise settlement of a suit by a group of dissident Teamsters members who sought to upset Hoffa's election as Teamsters president.

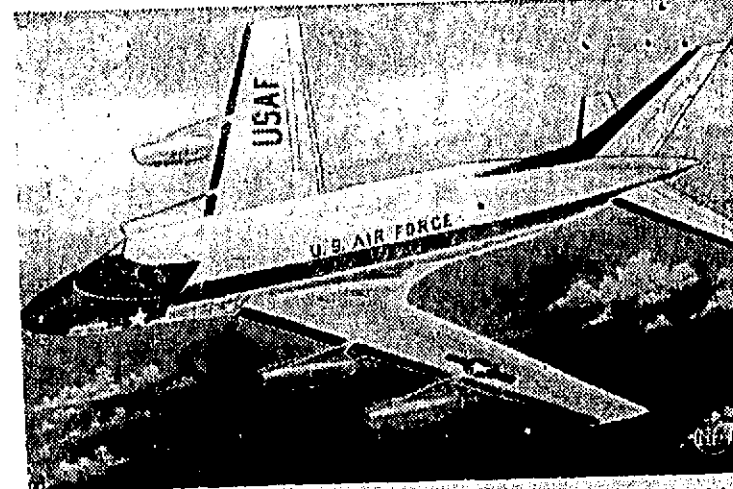

Bender told a news conference Judge Letts welcomed establishment of the commission which Hoffa announced last Saturday.

He also said he saw no conflict between his commission and the monitors and that he would cooperate with them.

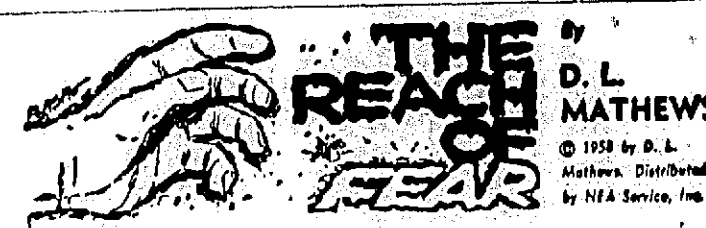

In pledging to conduct a thorough probe of the Teamsters, Bender said he was confident Hoffa will follow any cleanup recommendations the commission

TIME ON HIS HANDS—West German Postmaster General Richard Stuecklen is allergic to snobs. So he worked up the gimmick he holds above. His "brush-off machine" consists of four hour glasses of the type used to time three-minute boiled eggs. Underneath each is a label reading, in order, Introduction; Get to the Point; Hurry Up; and Finish. When the sand runs out in the last one, the visitor is politely ushered out.

VERSATILE WORKER—Almost a plane of all trades is this new four-jet, utility craft shown in sketch above. Built by McDonnell Aircraft Corporation it is designed to serve as bomber and navigator trainer, as a high-speed transport for use by priority combat troops and priority cargo and for the emergency evacuation of casualties.

Chapter XXVI

Lieutenant Morrison parked his car in the police garage. It was against the rules, but one could get away with it for a few months at a time. When work slackened off, the powers that be spent their time enforcing rules, but when there were other things to do, they let the rules slide.

"The mechanics were working on some of the cars, gripping about the care the officers gave them. When they were finished, and the cars were back in use, the officers would have plenty to say about the mechanics and how they weren't qualified to repair kiddy cars."

Morrison stopped by the lab, but Dr. Murdock wasn't in yet, will make.

"I agreed to serve only after assurance from Mr. Hoffa and his attorneys that I will have a free hand to act as I see fit," Bender said.

U. S. Pressing Iraq to Ease Restrictions

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is pressing Iraq's revolutionary government to ease restrictions on American diplomats in Baghdad.

Iraq's attitude on this will be viewed as a clue to the sincerity of its pledge to seek friendly relations with the United States.

Diplomatic officials who reported this said reopening of the U.S. information office, shut down since the revolt exploded six weeks ago, is one of the steps the new regime has been asked to take.

The State Department also is urging Iraq to end half a dozen other annoying restrictions hampering the work of diplomats both in the U. S. Embassy and in American consulates.

These restrictions, officials said, are not viewed as a deliberate campaign of harassment at this time. Rather, they are looked on as being the result of confusion and overzealous supervision evident since the July 14 change in government.

The State Department also is unhappy about some bitter anti-American propaganda broadcast by Radio Baghdad. The official Iraqi government station has given considerable attention to charges that the United States plotted to stir up revolt in neighboring Syria.

he came up with something.

"He'll calm down after he's been at it a while. His promotion is kind of new stuff to him now. What's he got?"

"He was around, rechecking the people that live around here. The woman that lives in that older house, across from the Parkdale development, says she saw Craig Jensen come home about eight o'clock the night of the murder."

"He wasn't anywhere near there at that time," Morrison frowned.

"I know that. But Aden says the woman was positive she saw him go in. He says he questioned her closely, and she was looking out of her window, because she was expecting company, and she swears she saw him go in the house."

"How did she know it was him?"

"That's what Aden wondered, so he's gone out to talk to Mrs. Jannsen. It could be that the woman saw someone go in and just assumed that it was Jansen."

"Well, we'll see. Somehow I can't picture the Jannsen woman having men friends. She thinks she's too pure for such goings on."

Mae laughed derisively. "She may think she is, but unless she's dead, she ain't."

"Anything else?"

"No. Heres a list of the places I went. Got nothing, so there's no use in going back. I sent out some inquiries about Verhey, but I haven't heard anything yet. I talked to Captain Burgess, and his boys are going to keep an eye on the garages outside of town. That's all."

The lieutenant nodded. "O.K. Go on and get your breakfast, we'll take it from here."

Morrison had just started to straighten the papers that littered the desk, when Mae was back.

"Forgot something?" he asked.

"Yeah. A couple of the patrol boys picked up a guy that was same tavern. The phone company calling the Adams' house. The fool called four times from the same tavern. The phone company traced the call, and they got him, while he was in the booth. He was pretty well tanked up. We put him away. Maybe you can get something out of him. He threatened to kill the other kid unless they paid off."

"Perhaps he'll confide in me. I'm beginning to feel like the soul mate of all the creeping worms in town."

Morrison went up the stairs to the jail. There was a small room just off the corridor that was used to question the prisoners. He told the guard whom he wanted and went in. In a few minutes, the guard brought the man in.

He was short and fat. His eyes were so deeply set that they were almost invisible. His hair was gone, except for a fringe that circled his head, and he was dressed like a laborer. He was probably the kind that wanted to be a big man and, when he couldn't make it, settled for being mean. Even in his meanness, he made sure that he didn't pick on anyone that might strike back.

"Sit down," Morrison said.

"I want a lawyer," the man answered sullenly.

"You'll have to settle for a shyster. No decent lawyer would touch you."

The man sat down. "You ain't got nothing on me."

"Attempted extortion is a pretty good something."

"You can't prove a thing," he said confidently.

"Police officers make good witnesses, and they listened outside the phone booth before they arrested you. The people at the tavern aren't going to like the idea of someone calling a man whose kid has been murdered and threatening to kill his other one, either. Folks don't take kindly to that sort of thing."

Tropical Storm Daisy Turns Into Hurricane

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Tropical storm Daisy developed into a full-fledged hurricane today with top winds of 85 miles per hour. Residents of the Florida, Georgia and North and South Carolina coasts were warned to keep in touch with advisories.

The Miami Weather Bureau said Daisy does not appear to offer any serious threat to the nation's lower East Coast at present, but residents along the shoreline should stay on the alert until the hurricane takes its expected northward turn.

At 11 a.m. (EST) Daisy was practically stationary at a point about 280 miles east of Palm Beach. Hurricane winds extended outward about 30 miles to the east of its center. Gale winds are blowing in an area 125 miles east of the center and 60 miles to the west.

The hurricane is expected to start moving north northwest or northward tonight. No marked intensification is forecast for the next 12 hours.

Van Buren Man Killed in Wreck

VAN BUREN, Ark. (AP)—A Van Buren man was killed, and three other men injured today in a two-truck collision on U.S. highway 71 inside the city limits here.

James Jones, 40, was killed instantly. Van Buren Patrolman E. S. McCabe said.

Jennings Raleigh, 35, a passenger in Jones' pickup truck; Pete Williamson of Fort Smith, driver of a bread delivery panel truck, and Henry Spitzworth, 49, of Fort Smith, a passenger in the bread truck, were hospitalized at nearby Fort Smith.

Extent of their injuries was undetermined. Hospital attendants said Raleigh was in shock and unable to give them his address.

McCabe said the two vehicles apparently sideswiped with terrific force.

U. S. Closely Eying China Situation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House said today the government is keeping a very close watch on Communist China's attacks on the offshore Quemoy and Tan Islands.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty told of the close watch as President Eisenhower conferred with Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The conference took place against the background of reports Chinese attacks on Big and Little from the Far East that the Red Quemoys and the Tan group had slacked off after a week of massive bombardment and air and sea activity. Those attacks on the Chinese Nationalist islands stirred concern that they may be a prelude to Communist invasion.

Hagerty said that Eisenhower and Twining usually confer about every two weeks. Referring to the regular periodic sessions, Hagerty described today's conference as nothing more than that.

Earlier two House foreign affairs specialists viewed Secretary of State Dulles' new warning to the Chinese Reds as indicating probable U.S. action if the Communists try to seize the islands.
